

Quick-write:

Imagine you are writing a breakup letter to someone you have been dating, but things have changed.

Use the imperfect tense to tell what things used to be like, and the preterite to describe what happened or changed.

Length: As much as you can come up with in 10 minutes. See how many uses of imperfect you can come up with!